

¹ Where RADT not available swab and culture is the alternative, treat a positive GAS result with antibiotics
 Chromatographic immunoassay tests show greatest sensitivity and specificity
 Modeling based on available prevalence data suggest between 1 in 100 and 5 in 100 children may have a false negative RADT test ie will be missed (refer to NZGG evidence review)